

Mr Jimmy,

Im sorry. Its taken sometime to write this letter because Ive had alot on my mind and heart. first off, Im going to ask you to forgive me. Not that I deserve it but that Ive asked God for forgiveness and I believe He has showed me it. I believe His forgiveness should come first - and that is something you taught me. Over a year I created a bond with you I will forever cherish. I think the world of you. I know the true heart you have and the heart you struggled with for years. You are a wise man who has so much to teach, and I can say you taught me a lot. Thank you from the bottom of my heart. I know you and Wade struggle to see eye to eye but be patient with one another. You and myself know he gets... and by he I mean (Wade) his stubbornness from Connie but its the fun and loveable kind. He is a lot like you in so many ways Mr Jimmy. I want you to know, Wade struggles to make you proud of him. I think for so long he has felt like a disappointment that he truly feels you will never be proud of him. Wade is an amazing, strong, intelligent, loving man. He just struggles to show it. You need to know you did an exceptional job raising those boys, including Mrs. Connie. I think I can understand how you felt when God took the things that meant so much to you away. I dont understand how this happend or why but I miss my kids and family. But im okay. Ive prayed. I think we may ask questions that we will never receive answers to. I hope you can truly find it in your heart to forgive me. I loved you like a dad Mr. Jimmy please know that. I truly loved Wade as well. I hope you had a good Thanksgiving.

-Taylor
