RE: Cease and Desist Letter

Dear Sir or Madam:

Please be advised that this office has been retained by Lindsay Lohan in regard to the unauthorized use of her name. It has come to our client's attention that you, your associates, and/or agents have been using the name "Lindsay Lohan" referring to an individual who will be attending your party on New Year's Eve and in doing so you have intentionally, falsely and negligently harmed our client Lindsay Lohan. Accordingly you have intentionally or negligently infringed upon our client's property rights, including but not limited to her right to privacy. Accordingly our client, Lindsay Lohan, will suffer harm and damage.

We would prefer to resolve this matter without the necessity of any formal proceedings, however, we are sure you can appreciate the importance which our client attaches to her name, and understand that we therefore strictly adhere to a policy of taking whatever lawful steps appropriate under the laws and regulations to protect her property rights. Please take notice that if you do not cease and desist, and immediately stop the false broadcast, publication and dissemination, you leave us little option but to seek judicial intervention.

We would appreciate your prompt attention to this matter, in order that any further confusion resulting in damage to our client is kept to a minimum. This letter, however, is without prejudice to our client's right to seek full redress for your unauthorized use of our client's name and/or likeness of name or portrayal, including damages, injunctive relief, and expenses in pursuing litigation against you and your associates.

Please do not hesitate to contact our office, should you have any questions regarding this matter.

Very truly yours,

STEPHANIE G. OVADIA, ESQ.
