This sad excuse of a human just encouraged people on video to literally go after my wife telling people to say that my previous relationship was better so on and so fourth. I just wanted to share this so that people get an idea of what we face on a day to day. It is extremely hard to choose the high road when i see people like this try and rally to gather people to bully the person i love the most in this world. It is not right. But i will say this. As many people as there are that want to spend their time publically degrading shaming and trying to humiliate us we would like to ask those who have it in them to lift us up in prayer. We need prayer and support as we continue to put ourselves out there!

After watching that i could easily let it steal my joy, but then i think about her life and how miserable she must be to want to spend her life trying to make others feel small. The lesson here is SHE'S THE ONE MISSING OUT.. life is fulfilling when you uplift and add value to people! A life where you want to make others feel small will leave you with no friends and no real JOY.
