

LocalHotClassifieds.com

Anderson Public Relations Group

Dear Kris,

We are saddened to hear about your impending divorce with Kim Kardashian. First you were locked out of the NBA, now you have been locked out of the Jenner/ Kardashian family, how horrible for you! We know what it feels like to be lonely and without your true love interests, both basketball and Kim. While you have this downtime with the NBA, and most likely will not be working on the E Show any longer, we at localhotclassifieds.com are prepared to make you an extraordinary offer to become the spokesperson for our website. This is not some ridiculous press stunt, but a serious opportunity for you to rake in some serious money as we are willing to compensate you with the same salary you were making from Ryan Seacrest Productions. Kris, you have natural good looks, and a great athletic body and we know there are literally thousands of girls on our site that are dying to hook up with you. That's why we feel you would make the ideal candidate to be our representative. We'd like to hear from you within the next week to see if you are interested. Please have your representative get back to us.

Regards,

Adam Kilgore