4 A week and a half ago Floyd showed up to 5 my house un-announced making threats 6 about doing bodily harm to me and 7 so I called the police he left by the 8 time they arrived and told me to call 9 the police again if he shows up 10 un-announced and not welcomed doing 11 things to make me feel uncomfortable.
12 Which is what he did the morning of 13 9-9-10 the ^{2-3AM} first time he arrived - I 14 was not there but he let himself 15 in and began searching thru my 16 belongings. He began raising his voice 17 telling me I'm not shit and he knows 18 I'm dating someone else and he will 19 have "me and my guy friend" taken 20 care of" - I called the police and 21 they came and escorted him out 22 Not too long after the police left 23 he knocked on my sons bed/bathroom 24 door to be let in and my son did.
25 At this time I did not know he was in the house standing over as I slept on the couch. He awoke me by pulling me by my hair and throwing me on the ground in my living room and began punching me in my head dragging me on the floor and twisting my arm back in attempt to try and break it. My kids heard me screaming yelling for help as I screamed to tell them to call 911 or run out the house to the security gate to get help. He yelled fiercely at the children as he continued to beat me in front of them that if they ran or tried to call the police he would beat them the same way. I kept yelling crying to please run run run out and get help. The kids listened to me ran to the security gate & he went chasing after the children which gave me a window of escape so I ran the opposite direction out the garage to the gate as well. He yelled and screamed that he was going to kill me and my boyfriend and make sure we are taken care of.
