

600breezy 🌊 My baby was hurting and I did everything I could to show her nothing but love and keep her going. I put everything into her and her business. I believed in her I worshipped the ground she walked on . She's gone forever. I hate myself . Please when your loved ones are showing signs of any mental damage or health please take them serious. This is real . This is what she left me with . And I suppose to be able to continue to live ?????

@raven.k.jackson you always told me you wanted to go out young so you can get that love you deserve from others and be a legend. But what about your family baby what about me ? you left my heart so empty and broken lifeless alone. And no matter what they say or what you say I'm gonna forever feel like it's my fault. Please y'all pay attention to the signs of depression or mental health.

600breezy 🌊 Baby why would you do this to me , why would you do this to us ❤️ I was coming back home I promised you I would . You just gone leave me forever? You know how many people love you raven ? I would've never left if this was the outcome . Im f██████████ up for the rest of my life baby mentally you just finished me . Im shaking I'm crying I love you so much stinky pie . My woman my wife my life ...You pushed me away so you can do this ??? I would've died with you raven I did any and everything for you ...I'll never be able to love again @raven.k.jackson . I'll see you soon baby. God help me please

To Antonio:

I'm just tired baby. I was dealing with these thoughts before you met me, I was just waiting for the right time. This is my 3rd time writing this fr. It's nobody's fault. I've been tired for a long time. I gave up a long time ago, I just do a good job of hiding it. Right now, as I'm writing this, I'm remembering us happy, looking at our videos, imagining how beautiful of a bride I would've been. It's 5pm here, this bridge is actually nice. I wish we would've came here together. Some homeless people sprinkled in but not too many. I'm thinking about how this will feel. If it will hurt. I here together. Some homeless people sprinkled in but not too many. I'm thinking about how this will feel. If it will hurt. I used to joke about how recklessly I lived my life before meeting you, truth be told I would put myself in dangerous situations because I didn't care situations because I didn't care about living. Living just always seemed overrated. I'm sorry man. It's one thing to ruin your life, but I had to go and end mines too. Understand that this is my choice, this is what I wanted. This is what I've wanted for a while. I just don't fit here, I'm not happy in this world. I just can't fake it anymore. I don't want to be here, it's too much on me. I wish I could take it all back. Undo everything so I never even called you. Nothing seemed real Antonio. Not my business, not my relationship, not even me. My heart weak from stress and my ovaries hurt but they keep saying nothings wrong. I feel like I have bugs on my skin that from stress and my ovaries hurt but they keep saying nothings wrong. I feel like I have bugs on my skin that won't come off no matter how many times I wash. You were the best thing that happened to me in a long time Toni but I know I'm a lot to deal with. Rn we're as distant as we've ever been. I love you with all my heart. I couldn't take ruining us. I'm losing all the people I love. I want to leave here knowing that I didn't f [REDACTED] this one relationship up. I wish you were here to send me off like Murda did Teak, but you probably wouldn't be nearly as understanding anyway. And as much as I want you to see my point of view, I didn't want our last conversation to be an argument so that's why I was so quiet. I really just wanted to hear your voice one last time. You have every right to feel what you feel towards me baby. I love you Antonio, i pray I get to love you in a better life where I'm a better version of me. You deserve that much ❤️
