

Dear Ali,

I am taking the reins again as director of Ye's political operations. Your services on Ye's exploratory team are terminated as of this letter, and will not be required for any possible future campaign. You will not be permitted physical access to the candidate or any staff or volunteers in our organization from this moment.

You may if you wish reach out to Ye directly about the potential for confidential unpaid remote advisory services. Such services may not be made public, now or in the future.

Upon receipt of this letter and for the foreseeable future we ask that you refrain from making any comment, public or private, about the candidate, or YE24, unless expressly authorized to do so in writing. We will make our own announcement about these personnel changes at some point in the future.

Please furnish us with a copy of any records you hold related to the campaign by the end of the day today, including any Students for Ye email lists you may have stored copies of for your own purposes.

Yours faithfully,

Milo Yiannopoulos

Dear Nicholas,

As you may know, I have been in Los Angeles for the past week with Ye, discussing his presidential aspirations. The result of those discussions is that I will be taking the reins once again as director of his political operations. Your services on Ye's exploratory team are terminated as of this letter, and will not be required for any possible future campaign. But I am writing to inform you that you may, if you choose, offer yourself to Ye as a remote unpaid advisor. This private and confidential position may not be made public.

Upon receipt of this email and for the foreseeable future we ask that you refrain from making any comment, public or private, about the candidate, or YE24, unless expressly authorized to do so in writing. We will make our own announcement about these personnel changes at some point in the future.

Please ask your assistant [REDACTED] to contact me on [REDACTED] immediately to perform an orderly handover of the YE24.com domain and any associated digital assets. I ask that you furnish us with a copy of any records you hold related to the campaign by the end of the day today. Let me know if you have any questions or need any further information.

Yours faithfully,

Milo Yiannopoulos
