Dear Leo,

I need to talk to you.
Love is not like you wanted - virtually.
If you love somebody you want to meet with that person, kiss her, make love
to her. Virtually is not real love.

I write to you this letter because I put my thoughts better on the paper than in e-mail. For me e-mail is too cold.
On the paper, there is more love. I am warm.
Love is warm, not cold like the machines,
- computer.

You wrote to me 2 years ago that you love me and you don't love another woman. You said "I talk to you soon" and it past 2 years already and still you don't want to talk to me. Why? What happened to your love, why don't you wanna be with your love? I send you the letters that you wrote to me so you remember.

You said you're my husband from God.
Then why don't you wanna take me
as your wife. You said so to Jesus and you don't do what you're saying.

You know I'm a mother with 7 years and you saw His miracles. Why don't you wanna be with Him, His father.

I'm concerned about His birth. I see you're not. He was supposed to get born this year but because of you because you didn't wanna marry me HE didn't cause HE doesn't have a father.

Tell me what do you want with HIM
and me.

I want to talk to you.

Tell me your cell phone number.

I don't understand you why you don't want with ~~me~~ but I'm telling you
that if you don't want me and HIM,
you're going to Hell.

I love you,

but if you don't answer to my
love I must go for somebody else.
I don't have time to wait anymore.

Please, answer me back with a letter to this letter. It's more friendly.

Divia

P.S. I don't want virtual love. This is not love.

To: Leonardo di Caprio

I really need an answer to my question between us eye to eye.

What do you actually want from me?
Why do you fuck me virtually
and you don't leave me alone?

I have more questions to ask you besides these.

"I have questions to ask you" - song
that I never heard them from
you. I don't hear virtually

You have to give me a doctor declaration that you lost your virginity with me - kinda Bristowean
for my honor

Dear husband, Leo,

I am your wife and it would be nice of you to talk to me, as I ask you. You have my email and my phone number or my mailing address.

You have to answer to my questions to you.

Do you want to be with me for real and to be the father of Jesus?

I've explained you I can't be with nobody virtually. I have to have a father in reality for Jesus, not like this.

You are my husband now and you are supposed to be with me for real.

I can't be with somebody else and you can't marry with somebody else in church.

I want you to tell me what you want about me, you and my son from God Jesus.

Please talk to me like all people do, not virtually.

That's how you were supposed to do it 4 years ago not virtually.

You didn't wanna know what's the secret of life.
You still don't know it. You will if you will talk to me as I said.

I don't see you ~~to~~ wanna
live forever with me.

Why did you marry me if you
don't wanna live with
me with you?

I can't separate from
you.
I can't have other father
for Jesus and you don't protect me you want with me
and Jesus.

Please tell me.

Happy father's day P
