

DISGUSTING

8 hours ago

I love my wonderfold and I'm hoping this collab was out of ignorance. There is no way this company purposefully chose such a vile person to work with. To sell a product with its purpose to be used with CHILDREN, you chose a "woman" who told a CHILD (Courtney Stodden) to kill herself?! Not to mention her disturbing and inappropriate tweets. Do yourself a favor a collab with someone like Chelsea DeBore. Depending on your steps moving forward will determine my future as a customer, and many others it seems. I want to give this company the benefit of the doubt to fix it.

No, I do not recommend this product.

Horrible collab idea

13 hours ago

I will never spend another dollar with Wonderfold and will be switching to Keenz and recommending them to everyone instead. They picked one of the worst celebrities to collab with. I will not spend money on something for my child when the collab celebrity has made inappropriate sexual comments about children and cyber bullies people. Wonderfold lost my business forever!!! Also, it's just plain ugly! Design team missed the mark and so did everyone who had a hand in producing this with such a terrible person like her.

No, I do not recommend this product.

This wagon was beaten by the ugly stick

8 hours ago

I dont know much about Crissy (although I've been educated today) but those colors remind me of the 90's baby equipment. Or something from Walmart. Soooo ugly. I could never be seen In public pushing that pink floral monster. Barf I actually laughed and thought it was a joke at first. Unfortunately it's no joke. I'll be interested to see how this sells. More interested in seeing if WF will make a public comment about this collaboration. People are pi$$ed!

What were you thinking? Absolutely disgusting

12 hours ago

I can't believe that a company geared towards children would associate themselves with that women at all. She is vile and disgusting and definitely not someone I would want to be associated with. I would never use a wagon with her name on it. Even if it wasn't cheap and tacky looking. I currently have a w2 luxe and a w4 luxe and I will be selling them to buy from your competitor. I don't want to even push something with your company's name on it anymore. I won't be associated with it at all.

No, I do not recommend this product.

Sick and Messed up

12 hours ago

How sad that Wonderfold dropped the ball and endorsed someone like her? She literally a vile human being and the sick things that she said about children and then a children company enable that behavior... My wife and I purchased two Wonderfold, VW W4 and a W2 and bow she wants to sell her wagons and go to a different wagon.

No, I do not recommend this product.

Not cool!

If I could give a 0 star rating I would. This is appalling that Wonderfold would collaborate with this lady especially being it's for kids/families after what she represents. Nobody wants w Wonderfold with her name attached!!!! Wonderfold do better!! ALOT better! Maybe Barbie hot pink!

No, I do not recommend this product.

Wonder-Fail!

Out of all the people you could have collaborated with, you chose a vile bully. I don't know who was in charge of this collaboration idea but they really failed you guys. Definitely will not be staying with this company after seeing this.

Wonder-fail

10 hours ago

This collaboration was a big mistake on the part of wonderfold. Teaming up with Chrissy Teigan was such a poor choice. I don't care if every cent of the money goes to charity. She is a terrible person. I absolutely love my W4 Elite and used to tell all of my mom friends how much I love it. I don't know if I can do that anymore. I used to trust this company.

No, I do not recommend this product.

Awful collab!!

14 hours ago

So tasteless that you would pick her out of all people to collab with a CHILD PRODUCT! So nasty! Also the colors make it look like a cheap children's doll stroller from Walmart!

No, I do not recommend this product.
