

Thank You

Hey guys it's Simu aka nippedinthebud aka ultimate Reddit lurker! With just a couple more episodes to premiere

I also wanted to say that I've been reading comments on the season and I really appreciate your honest and open criticism. I think it shows how invested you are in the show and its characters, and that is incredibly touching to me on so many levels.

I'm not going to speak for anyone but myself here, but in general I think it's perfectly natural for shows to take risks and try different directions as the seasons go on; if you don't, you're just hitting one note over and over again, which isn't always creatively exciting. And it's also perfectly understandable that some things will click better than others. I truly believe that we've all only begun to scratch the surface of what we're capable of and I look forward to sharing that journey with all of you. We'll be back shooting season 4 in no time and before you know it, there will be more episodes on the air!

For now, if I may, I'd like to ask that we all push extra hard for these last couple of episodes and make a real splash on Twitter and other socials!

I'm down to answer any questions y'all may have in the comments; just know that I'm limited by my position in what I can and can't talk about so this is not an AMA :P
