The Honorable Kevin Gross
c/o US Bankruptcy Court

Dear Honorable Kevin Gross,

I'm writing you this letter in hopes to persuade you to cease in helping Mr Frank McCourt retain any ownership in the Los Angeles Dodgers.

It has come to my attention as well as the million's or so populous of loyal Dodger fans worldwide, that Mr McCourt has been sifiling-off team revenue's towards his own lavish life-style. His "ownership" in the Dodgers franchise has been a huge black eye on our city and the team we love the most. We are hoping as fan's to have a new owner straighten out this mess and make this once proud franchise a contender again in our life time.

I beg you Mr Gross to please do the right thing and side with Major League Baseball and the Commissioner's Office (who created this mess in the first place by allowing McCourt to take ownership with very little capital on hand) so they can put the team up for auction to someone who will no doubtedly manage this once jewel of the West Coast to what it needs to be, the Yankees of the West.

Warm Regards,

Michael Evans

Dear Judge Gross,

I moved to Los Angeles in 1995 from Wisconsin and over time I have become a Dodger fan, attending several games each year. When the team was sold to the McCourt's 7 years ago things changed and most recently this year things have taken a more drastic change. The first game I attended this year was so understaffed some concession stands were closed, the ones open had lines so long I missed 4 innings of baseball. The experience has been ruined and I have limited my attendance to a few games this year, until now, I have decided I will only attend away Dodger games until Frank McCourt is removed from the Dodgers. He has used the Dodgers to finance his personal life, even his agreement he tried to have approved with Fox had $20 million dollars for himself, his ex-wife and their attorneys. This sort of thing is an outrage and is an embarrassment to all of MLB, its owners, players and fans.

Sincerely,
Ty Manion

Judge Gross:

There is a boycott going on in Los Angeles against the owner of the Los Angeles Dodgers Mr. Frank McCourt. It already totals more than 8,000 per game and is building more momentum every day. The citizens want their Dodgers to be run in a sound business way like they had been throughout there long proud history before Mr. McCourt bought the team with borrowed money. Fans not coming to the ballpark and not spending money will not change and will only get worse even if Mr. McCourt is able to retain ownership.
Thank you.

Sincerely yours,

Judge Gross:

As a citizen of the great state of California, as a citizen of this great country, and as a lifelong baseball fan growing up in Los Angeles, I implore you to side with Major League Baseball and demand that Frank McCourt immediately begin proceedings that will separate him from his place as owner of the Los Angeles Dodgers. The list of offenses committed by Mr. McCourt against the team and its fans is too long to list here, the details of which can be discovered through public court documents, with the only clear solution being a swift and secure change in ownership.

Please do what you can to help the beleaguered fans of this once proud sports franchise.

Thank You,
