Lease #:

Dear Mr. Cage:

I am writing to inform you that we have terminated your Lease Agreement for the abovementioned vehicle. You are no longer authorized to operate this motor vehicle. As well, please consider this letter as a demand for you to return the vehicle to our authorized agent.

Upon receipt of the vehicle, we will liquidate the same at wholesale value. You will be responsible according to the terms of the Lease Agreement for any deficit between the amount received and the balance due on the Lease, as well as any expenses that are incurred as a result of our liquidating the vehicle. Your failure to pay this amount may result in a derogatory mark on your credit.

If I do not hear from you within ten (10) days of the above date, be advised that we will take whatever action is necessary in order to recover our asset and/or any losses that may be incurred as a result of your default on the terms of the Lease Agreement.

Your response or lack thereof may result in legal action, please act accordingly.

Yours truly,

Melissa McCarthy

You have the right to get a professional appraisal to establish the wholesale value of the vehicle for the purpose of figuring how much you owe on the lease. If you want an appraisal, you will have to arrange for it to be completed at least three days before the scheduled sale date of the vehicle. The appraiser has to be an independent person acceptable to the holder of the lease. You will have to pay for the appraiser. The appraised value will be considered final and binding on you and the holder of the lease.

Please note that the net sale proceeds may not cover your Early Termination Liability. If that happens, you will owe the balance and you could be sued for that balance.
